

Important update Super Savings Accumulation Guide

The below update applies to the Super Savings Accumulation Guide issued on 1 July 2025 (Guide).

Please read this important update with the Guide.

Family Law Split

On 1 April 2025, the Family Law (Superannuation) Regulations 2025 increased the minimum account amount required to enable a Family Law split from $5,000 to $10,000.

The below update applies to page 48 of the Guide.

We have highlighted the updated amount in red, so that you can easily see what's changed. This important update should be read in conjunction with the Guide.

If you separate from your spouse (including same-sex and de facto), family law legislation means you may be able to split the super either of you hold with a value of $10,000 or more. If we need to split your account, and after we receive all the required information and forms, we'll generally open an Accumulation account for your former spouse if they don't already have one. In accordance with the relevant agreement or Court order, we'll transfer their entitlement into that account and make a corresponding reduction to the amount in your super.

Because the legislation around splitting your super is complex and may have financial and tax implications for you, it's a good idea to get financial and legal advice.

Investment fees and costs and transaction costs

The investment costs component of investment fees and costs, and the transaction costs, are generally calculated based on actual costs incurred in the previous financial year. Performance fees are generally calculated based on an average of the previous 5 financial years of performance fees. Where actual amounts are not available, reasonable estimates are used.

For the Guide, we calculated investment fees and costs and transaction costs for the 2024–25 financial year before the end of the financial year, using the investment cost, transaction cost and performance fee information that was available at the time it was prepared.

Following the end of the 2024–25 financial year, we recalculated these amounts, using additional investment cost, transaction cost and performance fee information which became available after the end of the financial year and relying less on reasonable estimates.

As a result, the investment fees and costs and transaction costs for several of our investment options have been updated.

Super Savings Accumulation Guide

The below updates apply to pages 35 to 39 of the Guide.

We have highlighted the updated amounts in red, so that you can easily see what's changed. This important update should be read in conjunction with the Guide.

Investment fees and costs and transaction costs for each investment option

We charge investment fees and costs to manage each investment option. The investment fees and costs include the internal costs of managing investments and may include investment project related costs.

The investment fees and costs and transaction costs are estimates only. The investment fees component of investment fees and costs is estimated based on recent experience and our expectations for the financial year ending 30 June 2026. The investment costs component of investment fees and costs, and the transaction costs, are generally calculated based on the actual costs incurred for the year ending 30 June 2025. Where actual costs weren't available, we've used reasonable estimates of actual costs.

The actual amount you'll be charged will depend on the actual fees and costs the Trustee incurs in managing the investment option.

Investment fees and costs include an amount for performance fees, which are calculated differently. We describe performance fees and set out the performance fees for each option in the table on page 39.

Performance Fees

We generally incur investment fees and costs from our investment managers based on a percentage of the market value of the funds managed. In some cases, managers may have a base fee plus a performance fee that we pay if assets they manage beat certain performance targets. Performance fees form part of investment fees and costs. They're part of the amounts we show you as investment fees and costs in the relevant PDS and guides.

We believe that performance fees encourage our investment managers to try to deliver sustained investment performance. Performance fees are difficult to predict because they're based on future investment performance of many underlying investments. They're not based on the performance of the whole investment option.

Where possible, we show you performance fees that are an average of the previous 5 financial years. Australian Retirement Trust Super Savings started on 28 February 2022 and adopted the investment strategy of the former Sunsuper for life. For periods before this date, we've used equivalent Sunsuper for life fee data.

The Balanced Risk-Adjusted option became available to Super Savings members on 1 July 2024 but has previously been available to QSuper account holders. The performance fees shown for this option are an average of the previous 5 financial years, based on QSuper investment fee and cost information.

Our High Growth Index option started on 1 July 2024. Performance fees for that option are based on actual costs for the previous financial year and reasonable estimates where actual costs were not available.

The actual performance fees you are charged may be higher or lower because of performance by various underlying investment managers.
